Re: Minh Quang Viet Nguyen

To: Whom it concerns:

Minh Quang Viet Nguyen has informed me that he is applying for an internship as part of the capstone of his business education. Based on my work with Minh as a student in my “Doing Global Business—the Silicon Valley Perspective” class at the Hult International Business School, I can assure you Minh is a very good student who is enthusiastic about financial and investment management as well as private equity.

Minh garnered one of the best grades given out in the class. Equally important Minh was a frequent and active participant in all aspects of the course and made the class more interesting and enlightening for all. I wholeheartedly recommend Minh because Minh has that unique set of qualities I look for in my best students:

- *Intellectual curiosity and good communication skills
- *Intelligence
- *An ability to appreciate different views and a good team member
- *A strong personal commitment to success

I serve on numerous corporate boards and I’ve run major businesses including The North Face, which I founded and ran for 20 years. I’ve taught business courses at Hult, Cal, Stanford, MIT and Carnegie Mellon. I’m happy to say that Minh’s capabilities are the equal of the best people with whom I’ve worked and had in my classes.

I recommend Minh without reservation. If you have any questions feel free to contact me at my email address: hap.klopp@faculty.hult.edu or directly on my U.S. cell phone 1-510-772-6416.

Sincerely,
